

Horst-Kreft-Lesefest

On the 24th of March 1987, the reading festival was held for the first time under the theme "Reading is Fun". The main focus was on the joy of reading and storytelling rather than competition, a principle that still applies today. Mr. Horst W. Kreft was a founding member of the AGDS. He served as a judge in the first year. To honor his efforts in preserving the German language, the reading festival was named after him. Children participate in 2 categories (Grades 3-4 and Grades 5-6), and each AGDS member school may send 2 scholars. Both a prepared and an unprepared text are read aloud and judged.
